PRINCIPAL'S WELCOME

Welcome to our College Prospectus for the academic year 2019-20. As a school community we are very proud of the work which we are doing at Hunterhouse College and it is my pleasure to share some of it with you in the pages which follow.

As the father of two daughters, I am very conscious of how important it is to choose the right school for your child. I believe it is important for children to be happy at school, to be valued as individuals, for their talents and ambitions to be encouraged and for them to be both challenged and supported in their learning. As Principal of Hunterhouse College, I strongly believe that these are characteristics which lie at the core of our values and ethos.

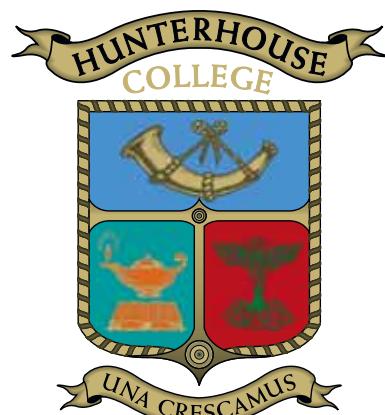

At the centre of everything that we do is also our desire to ensure that all students are able to access the highest standards of learning and teaching and that they are able to progress beyond expectations.

We are also conscious that education is about more than qualifications; in addition it must be about helping to develop well-rounded young people who will thrive in their lives beyond Hunterhouse.

While the prospectus outlines some of the key features of the life and organisation of the school I would encourage all families to visit the school either during our Open Events or by arranging a separate visit through the school office. Our students are our best advertisement and by experiencing the school at first-hand I am sure that you will see why this is such a wonderful place to learn and work.

INTRODUCTION

Hunterhouse College has a caring and inclusive environment that provides you with the highest standard of education. Individual development is fundamental to school life and is supported through the outstanding pastoral care that promotes self-growth and self-discipline at each stage of your school years.

We would strongly encourage any new student to become involved in the school activities and trips on offer which cater to a wide variety of interests including music and sport. These build skills such as leadership and communication and, in addition, you will make life-long friendships.

As Sixth Formers, we have experienced the continual updating of the school facilities to enrich our learning experience. These include the opening of our Learning Resource Centre, a refurbished careers department and the upgrading of ICT provision that have all proven invaluable to our studies and preparation for Higher Education.

Our time at Hunterhouse College has helped to shape us into the well-rounded young women that we have always strived to become: ambitious, confident and responsible. We have been given so many opportunities that have allowed us to achieve our full personal and academic potentials.

We wish you all of the best and look forward to welcoming you to our school.

A LEARNING COMMUNITY

We are very proud of the quality of learning and teaching in our classrooms and we want all of our students to do well and to aspire to academic excellence.

Our examination results are on an upward trend with significant progress being made in many key areas. Over the last three years we have attained highs in public examinations: in 2016 the proportion of students attaining 3+ A* - C grades at A Level was our highest in over a decade; in 2017 records were broken at GCSE A* - B level; and in 2018 the percentage of A - C grades at AS Level was the best on record.

Most importantly we also know that we add value to students' learning. Students at Hunterhouse continue to outperform students of similar abilities at other schools. Ensuring that students of all abilities make progress beyond expectations is what we are most proud of as a school.

But it is not just about examination results. Whilst we encourage all of our girls to excel academically, success is much more than this. It is about giving our students the skills and the attributes that will allow them to flourish in life beyond Hunterhouse. It's about them having confidence, being aware of their own strengths and weaknesses as well as knowing how to improve and progress, being creative and innovative in their thinking and having the skills to learn independently.

Learning is not just limited to students. The desire to continually improve and develop as a school is at the centre of all of our planning. Our teachers reflect on their own practice, learn from each other and share best practice and resources. By involving the school in a range of initiatives and partnerships with other schools and organisations we also learn from others. Through these links we are able to develop still further the skills of our teaching staff and, most importantly, enrich the learning experience of our students.

We have also worked hard and invested in our buildings and resources to ensure that we have an environment that encourages and stimulates learning. At the heart of this is our Learning Resource Centre which houses our library, over seventy networked computers, breakout classroom and Sixth Form Study Area. In this space it is common to see classes of different ages working and learning alongside each other.

CURRICULUM

The core aim of the curriculum at Hunterhouse is to enable all students to succeed in their learning. The organisation and delivery of the curriculum is designed to encourage individual progress through, for instance, the provision of different pathways, choice and flexibility where appropriate and progression between the key stages.

Throughout Key Stage Three (Years Eight to Ten) the curriculum is broad and balanced and students are taught mainly in form classes but are subdivided into smaller groups for practical subjects.

SETTLING IN

Changing schools is, of course, a major undertaking and we are very mindful of this fact. Students joining Hunterhouse in Year Eight are supported right through this important process.

Last September girls joined the College from over thirty different schools and from places as far apart as Crumlin and Carrickfergus, Banbridge and Ballinderry. So we are used to our new intake coming from a very wide range of schools, both in terms of numbers and geographically.

We have a designated Head of Year Eight who works each year with a specialist team of Form Teachers. In this role they have obviously built up a wealth of expertise in how to welcome and settle girls quickly into Hunterhouse. They are fully aware of the issues facing new students and how best to support them. Girls may arrive knowing only one or two other people but very quickly they are helped to make new and lasting friendships, not only in their class but across the whole year group.

Over the first couple of days new students spend a lot of time with their Form Teacher who can make sure that all girls know everything they need to know about their new school.

One of the main differences between Primary and Post-Primary school is, of course, the fact that students will have several subjects each day and move between rooms and teachers. As students are in contact with so many different teachers it is important that they know where to go if they need any help.

At Hunterhouse we make sure that new students don't feel like just another face in the crowd.

We also have a team of Peer Supporters, Year Fourteen girls who have been trained for this important role and are assigned to each form class with the specific responsibility of looking after their group in that first important term and beyond, providing girls with another member of the school community to talk to and one who can provide a different perspective.

We are conscious of the value of developing strong relationships with parents new to the school and throughout this important first year a range of events is organised. These include our Year Eight Welcome Event on the first day of term and the Progress Meeting in January.

The new Year Eight students also have a residential based at the Folk Museum at Cultra in October which, whilst having an important educational outcome, is also about developing friendships and bonding as a wider group. It is one of those events which, even in the Sixth Form, girls still talk about as being a real highlight of their time at Hunterhouse.

WHAT DO OUR PARENTS SAY ABOUT US?

"As the parent of a daughter in Year 13, I couldn't have wished for these formative years to have been spent anywhere better than Hunterhouse College. The school has provided a warm, caring learning environment for our daughter. She has worked hard, achieved better than dreamed of exam results and, perhaps more importantly, been extremely happy."

She has been encouraged to work to her strengths and the guidance and support she has received from the wonderful staff at Hunterhouse College has been outstanding. We are grateful that she is a pupil of this marvellous school."

"My daughter joined Hunterhouse College as a Year 13 student. I can't believe how quickly she settled in. She has already made lots of new friends, joined the Choir and Orchestra, and has even started taking music lessons again! Thanks Hunterhouse, for making this transition so smooth. We really appreciate it."

"Our daughter started Year 8 at Hunterhouse College in September 2016. We have been extremely impressed by the way in which the staff have supported her during the difficult transition from primary to post primary education. There is a very strong sense of community at Hunterhouse with parents being encouraged to become part of the school family. We are confident that with the learning experiences on offer and the excellent pastoral care provided, our daughter will have every opportunity to achieve her full potential."

"As a new parent to Hunterhouse College this year I have been very impressed with the additional help that has been given to my daughter. In particular, the Classroom Assistants have been a great support and nothing seems to be too much trouble. It is very reassuring to have open and honest communication between home and school."

"Our daughter started Year 8 at Hunterhouse College in September and we have been very impressed with all efforts made to integrate the new girls into school life. From the letters written to them during their induction day by outgoing Year 8 students, staff giving up their time after school to ensure they all get on the right bus and the residential trip to Cultra, it's the small things that really matter and our daughter couldn't be happier - well done Hunterhouse College!"

"Hunterhouse College has provided a warm, friendly and caring learning environment for our daughter and we have been delighted with the progress she has made both academically and socially. She really enjoys each day at school and is encouraged by the teaching staff both in class and in the extra-curricular activities of her choice."

"The confidence and self-belief that our daughter has gained since starting Hunterhouse College is phenomenal. The standard of teaching and student mentoring is fantastic.

It has been a joy to watch our daughter transform from shy and insecure to capable and self-assured in such a short time."

"My daughter, currently in Year 9, is thriving in Hunterhouse College. Her confidence in her abilities has grown so much. It has been wonderful to watch her grow into a happy, motivated young lady who thoroughly enjoys going to school, knowing she will be given the time and experiences to reach her potential."

"Transferring my daughter into Hunterhouse College in Year 9 was the best decision we have made. Pastoral care and learning support are second to none. A happy, smiling girl coming home from school is an absolute joy to see."

"Hunterhouse College has a well-known reputation for exceptional pastoral care and the staff live this reputation to the full. My daughter has been given individual, focussed, caring support in both Years 8 and 9. The communication from staff to parents and between staff is excellent. Heads of Year are proactive in providing individual support and understand the needs of the students in their cohort. The staff are very approachable, live the ethos of the school, are willing to go the extra mile to support students and constantly demonstrate inclusivity as well as support to those who need it."

"Our daughter loves going to school every day. The committed and caring staff at Hunterhouse College have encouraged her to involve herself in every aspect of school life. She has enjoyed taking part in school productions, speech and drama and always manages to find a sporting activity to occupy her time after school. Most importantly, she has benefitted from the excellent learning environment and pastoral system which the staff have created."

"All my fears of senior school were set aside when my daughter began life at Hunterhouse College. She is always cheerful about what the day ahead holds.

The Hunterhouse girls appear to support each other and they seem to inspire one another to take part in the varied sports and activities. I can only congratulate the staff in supporting the girls to grow, to develop their interests and to continue their path in learning."

"My daughter had high expectations of Hunterhouse College long before we'd even got to write it on 'the form', the worry was that it couldn't possibly live up to them.

Had I known back in P6 of the care Hunterhouse takes of their students and the strategies they use to help them settle and bond I would have had much less worry during the transfer period. It has met those high expectations and greatly exceeded them.

We have successfully made that move smoothly, with no dilemmas and with a bubbly, confident girl coming home each evening. Homeworks are not a chore and her independence is remarkable.

What a great start to a new school."

PASTORAL CARE

The role of our pastoral staff is to provide the support and guidance that is essential to ensure that all students feel safe and valued in school and become successful learners.

When students enter Hunterhouse they join one of four form classes within their year group. These classes are rearranged at the end of Year Eight and then again at the end of Year Ten. This is to ensure that students develop confidence working with others within their peer group and are able to build friendships right across the year group.

The exception to this structure is the Sixth Form in which form classes are organised vertically, with classes containing both Year Thirteen and Year Fourteen students. This provides opportunities for peer mentoring, for support and for the sharing of learning strategies.

At the heart of our pastoral system are the Form Teachers. They continually monitor the well-being of every girl and her friendship group dynamics, as well as mentoring the academic progress of all students. The Form Teacher will be the first and most important point of contact between school and home.

Form Classes meet each day, with time spent in either whole school or year group assemblies or following a Personal Development Programme appropriate for their age range. This will cover issues such as e-safety, health and well-being, self-esteem and study skills.

The basis of our pastoral system is strong relationships and communication at all levels. This is an area of real excellence within Hunterhouse. From the feedback we receive from our parents and students we know that students feel confident that they can talk to teachers, that they will be listened to and that they will be encouraged and supported.

The pastoral work of the Hunterhouse staff is complemented by that of the FamilyWorks Counsellor. This is a service used by all schools across the country to ensure that students have a different person who they can talk to in school and whose expertise we can draw on.

ENRICHING LEARNING

Students are given the opportunity to take part in a wide range of extra and co-curricular activities to extend their learning, to develop new skills and to create memories that last a lifetime.

At Hunterhouse we are fully committed to the personal development of all of our students - socially, morally, physically, creatively and artistically. In developing these attributes the vibrant extra-curricular programme is an important and continually evolving part of school life. The following are some of the activities available:

- Art and Crafts
- Junior and Senior Choirs
- Coding Club
- Debating
- Drama and school productions
- School Orchestra
- Ukulele Group
- Science Club
- Scripture Union
- Speech and drama
- A wide range of sporting activities including hockey, netball, tennis, badminton, soccer, athletics, cross-country, equestrianism and fencing.

We also seek to extend still further students' learning through our co-curricular programme. Girls in all year groups will have a range of different speakers, workshops and day trips to further enrich the curriculum and add greater relevance to their studies. In recent months History classes have visited the Titanic Centre, our geographers carried out coursework on the north coast and the Colin Glen River and Sixth Formers have visited Dublin to carry out work related to several subject areas. Our GCSE Business Studies students always look forward to the annual visit to the Tayto factory!

Alongside these a number of extended trips are on offer to provide additional opportunities for students to broaden their experiences, understand different cultures and mature as young people. Recent trips have included:

- The annual Year 8 Cultra Residential
- Ski Trip to Folgaria, Italy
- Geography trip to Iceland
- Language exchanges to Paderbörn, Germany and Seville, Spain
- Art Trip to Amsterdam
- Business Studies trip to Disneyland, Paris
- Home Economics trip to London
- Debating trip to the House of Lords

DEVELOPING THE INDIVIDUAL

Students arrive at Hunterhouse with a range of abilities, skills and attributes and we recognise these differences. We know that all of our students are unique, that they learn in different ways and require the correct blend of support and challenge.

In the classroom, subject teachers work hard to stretch the most able while also offering support for those who require extra help. At Key Stage Three a particular focus is given to literacy and numeracy so that students' progress in these important areas is secure. A range of different strategies such as our Peer Reading Programme and Maths clinics ensure that this is the case.

Support and challenge also lies at the heart of our Assertive Mentoring Programme for students in Years Eleven to Fourteen. This has been a very successful initiative; students meet with their Mentor at stages across the academic year to review their progress, to identify what additional help they may need and to agree targets for further improvement.

Our two Special Educational Needs Co-ordinators lead the work of our Classroom Assistants to ensure that those students joining Hunterhouse College with special educational needs are well catered for and are able to access all aspects of their learning.

We know the importance of allowing students to follow a curriculum which is matched to their abilities and career aspirations. Choice begins as early as Year Nine when students choose which language courses they will follow. At Key Stage Four students can vary the number of GCSE courses which they take, while at Post 16 level the breadth of subjects available leads to a very wide range of Higher and Further Education courses and job opportunities.

To assist in this, the Careers Department offers ongoing guidance as girls seek to determine their career paths. Individual guidance interviews are available to all students from Year Ten upwards and are particularly important at the key transition points.

The CareerZone provides information on careers and courses beyond school and this is supplemented by talks, conferences, workshops and a biennial Careers and Higher Education Convention. Students also have opportunities to access specialist counselling from the Careers Service of the Department of Employment and Learning.

We also seek to develop the individual by providing a range of leadership opportunities for our students. These begin as early as Year Eight when each form elects a representative to serve on the School Council. Further opportunities are available at all age levels including posts within our House system, sports captains and music ambassadors.

PARTNERSHIP WITH PARENTS

Developing strong and meaningful relationships with our parents has always been and will continue to be a key aspect of our work.

COMMUNICATION

We liaise regularly with parents by email and text through ParentMail, our home-school communication system. Parents can also use this facility to top up their daughter's Redwood card and to make online appointments for our Progress Events.

The School website provides an informative and clear first reference point for all those wishing to find out more about the College.

PROGRESS EVENTS

These are held for each year group across the academic year. They provide parents with the opportunity to meet with their daughter's subject teachers, to review their progress and to discuss how further improvements can be made.

INFORMATION MEETINGS

Additional information meetings are also organised to ensure that parents are fully aware of the key issues relevant to their daughter's education. Induction meetings are held regularly, for example when students move between key stages, and parents are also invited into school to learn more about our work in relation to initiatives such as e-safety and study skills.

PARENT GOVERNORS

Parents also play an important role on our Board of Governors, serving as representatives of the parental body and providing an important sounding board for our work.

PARENT TEACHER ASSOCIATION

We are fortunate to have an active and very supportive Parent Teacher Association.

As well as raising additional funds for the school, this group is an important link between the school and our parents, organising events and welcoming new parents into the school community.

PARENTAL CONSULTATION

We also encourage parents to share their views and opinions with us as this is one way in which we can identify areas for improvement, as well as recognising what is working well. This partnership with parents helps to create a supportive environment for all of our students.

Maeve, Year 14

SEYMORE HILL PRIMARY SCHOOL

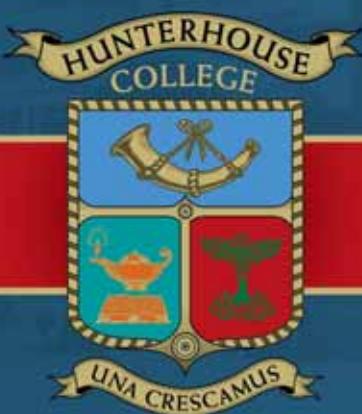

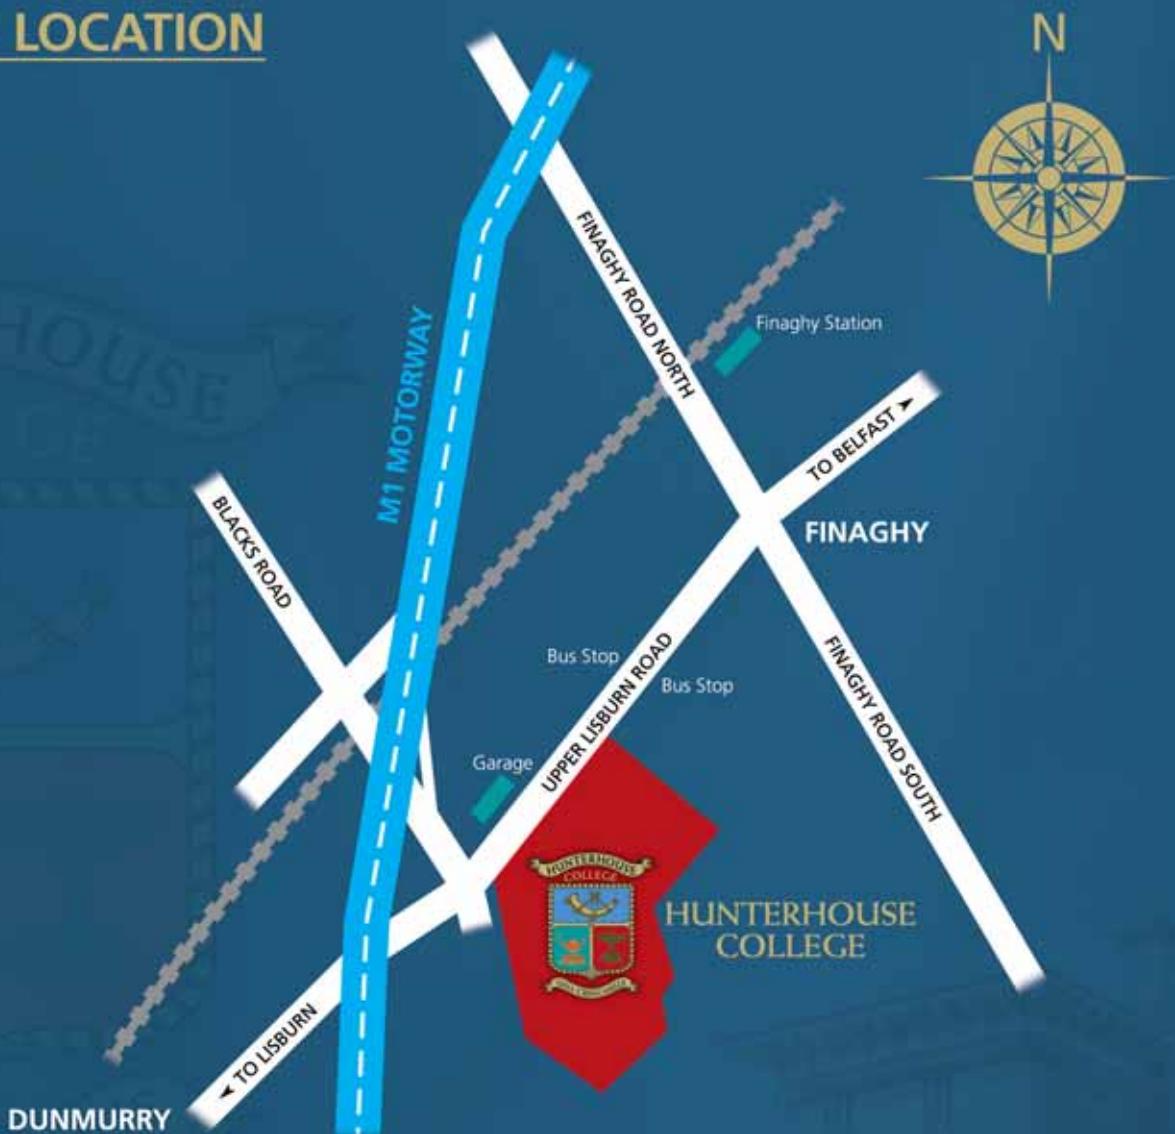

The teachers are so kind and we only have five classes a day. My favourite subjects are Geography and Music as they are fun and I can learn loads of new things. On my first day I was scared and excited in equal measure but it was incredibly easy settling into school. I made new friends and got to know the teachers and my way round school.

Chantelle, Year 8

The past seven years at Hunterhouse have flown in. I have made memories and gained friends for life. The teachers have been so supportive and have always gone the extra mile to help us succeed. I will be sad to leave but look forward to the future and the new opportunities that await.
